ABOUT FIXT POINT:

Founded in 2006, and incorporated as a not-for-profit organization in 2011, FIXT POINT is a professional theatre and media company, currently receiving operating support from The Ontario Arts Council. Our goal is to engage with the community through the combination of site-specific performance and audio art in order to tell tales across multiple platforms that serve to preserve local heritage and promote neighbourhood culture. FIXT POINT is headed by Artistic Director, Lisa Marie DiLiberto and Managing Director, Charles Ketchabaw.

The Tale of a Town – Canada is a national oral history and theatre initiative aiming to capture the collective community memory of our country's main streets, one story at a time.

Over the next three years, The Tale of a Town will tour across the Canada, gathering downtown stories in small towns and big cities alike, and creating performance installations in the capital city of each province and territory. This national venture will culminate in a multi-platform celebration of the country's main street culture, in commemoration of Canada's 150th anniversary in 2017.
