

Craig Ashton

My husband Guy and I have established two new businesses in Collingwood since moving here in 2014. Our award-winning bed and breakfast, Craigleith Manor B&B, was named one of Canada's Top 25 in 2018. I am proud to have opened Collingwood Flowers & Home Decor in the renovated premises of the former Smart's Flowers at 56 Hurontario Street. Collingwood is undergoing significant change and the downtown business district must evolve to serve the many new residents who are moving here along with increased tourism and finally, but very importantly – we must continue to serve our long-term residents. I look forward to being part of the Downtown BIA board of directors and to be a progressive voice for intelligent, business focussed progress.
